FREEDOM IN ACTION

The senior girls headed into the annual Powderpuff game, looking for a sweep of the event. The junior girls, boasting a strong team, easily defeated the class of '81, 18-0.

The seniors showed some offense, but that was held in check by penalties. The juniors, however, worked the ball well, scoring at will. The action, on the field, was overshadowed by sideline antics of the cheerleaders.

Riding high with a stylish entrance, the senior cheerleaders circled the track on bicycles. The annual halftime battle of the cheerleaders showed spectacular innovation as cheering squads manned fire extinguishers to ward off attacks. The cheerleader's halftime antics continued throughout the second half, spilling onto the playing field at times.

The game compared to the battle of the cheerleaders seemed uneventful. The class of 1981 left the field with a loss and a 1-1 record in Powderpuff history.

FREE TO COME HOME

The highlight of winter sports is the annual Homecoming. This year proved to be no different. As the calendar turned to October, the student body got excited as their respective clubs and organizations prepared floats for the festivities.

The agenda for the 1980 Homecoming included the traditional bonfire, a parade, and the football game, but the week before the scheduled event, the Studetn Council organized an effort to enable the students to exhibit their school spirit. During "Spirit Week," everyone dressed appropriately for such days as 'Fifties Day,' 'Hat Day,' 'Wacky Day,' and 'Green and Gold Day.' The fun continued during each lunch break as contests were held, such as 'Dress Your Partner,' 'Mellow Yellow Chug-a-lug,' and 'Apple Bobbing.'

The game was held on October 23, but the weather tried to dampen the fans' spirit by intermittent rain showers. It did not succeed in hampering Half Time activities, however, as the grade-level representatives were presented to the audience. Then, SCA President. Michael Fleming crowned the happy Homecoming Queen, Carol Stacy, and her Maid of Honor, Kathy Mansfield.

The 1980 Homecoming was labeled a complete success by students, parents and alumni alike.

Lake Buena Vista, Florida

April 1981

Florida! It's mention conjures images of sunny beaches, bright sun, and high surf. For a marching band Florida symbolizes the reward for a season of work and achievement, as it offers the chance to combine competition with vacation. During the spring, several competitions in Florida draw bands from all over the country, and one of these is the Orange Blossom Festival in Orlando, numbered among its contestants, the Clover Hill Marching Cavaliers.

For years, the CH Band members had watched while others had gone on spring trips. Many considerations, with money being the major one, kept CH from joining them. However, after 1980, its best season ever, the band leadership decided that the time had arrived, and plans were made to enter the Orange Blossom, to be held in April.

Practices began a month before departure. A marching review for parents and the community was held on the Sunday before departure. On April 29th, the band members, chaperones, and luggage were piled aboard three chartered busses, and the odyssey began.

Upon arrival at the Ramanda Inn the band unpacked, relaxed briefly and they were off to Sea World. That evening they ate at the Contemporary Hotel in Disney World, and then took a moonlight cruise on the lake. The next day was a day of competition. The band practiced and went to the competition site, the Tangerine Bowl. During the period April 30-May 4, only once did it rain — just when the band was on the field ready to perform. After beating an orderly retreat, they waited an hour and a half until the deluge subsided, at which time they were able to perform, qualifying for the finals later that night. At the day's end, out of 11 bands from areas east of the Mississippi, Clover Hill finished in fourth place.

Can we take them all home? In the Orange Blossom bands from all over the East Coast compete for trophies.

Saturday was River Country Day. That night was a luau at the Polynesian Village. Sunday was fun day at the Magic Kingdom, Walt Disney World. Monday, the busses were repacked, and the odyssey wound its way back to Virginia.

The trip to Florida was the obvious highlight to many of an already memorable marching season.

READING is . . .

The reading program is designed for any student who feels the need to improve this vital skill. At Clover Hill, remedial, developmental, and advanced reading skills are offered in grades nine to twelve.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE is . . .

French, Spanish, German, or Latin are the languages that the students can choose from at Clover

This year students enrolled in foreign language were involved in a variety of exciting activities. Among those activities featured was foreign week, which included t-shirt day, foreign cuisine day, and a poster contest. The foreign language banquet served as a tasty finale to end the week. The Folk Dance Club entertained the affair with festive dances.

In the fall, foreign language clubs participated in Homecoming events. Each language presented their own float.

SCIENTIFIC FREEDOM

The science program at Clover Hill is laboratorycentered, involving problem solving and independent thinking. Students and teachers recognize that this type of program requires effort. Science teachers are fortunate to have a group of students who serve as lab assistants to help with the preparation of lab materials.

Because of the complexity and specialized detail of the science fields, science teachers are specialists.

Usually each teacher is certified to teach only one area of science such as chemistry. This is not true in most other disciplines.

One year of science is required for high school graduation, but most students complete more than one year.

Additional electives include Consumer Math, Computer Math I and II, and Functional Math. Future courses include Trigonometry and Career Math. Math is not just a required boring subject. It is a course full of puzzles, adventures and games. It is exciting and a very important part of some students' curriculum at Clover Hill High School.

LECTURES

HISTORICAL FREEDOM

Every four years, as sure as death and taxes, the presidental election rolls around. In all United States History and Government classes, the main homework is to keep up with candidates and issues of the election. In addition to the election, a new course in economics and sociology was offered to seniors.

Mr. Pearman explains an historical concept to his class

The government classes again sponsored a mock election. The mock election took a different twist with all Chesterfield County schools participating.

Electors were chosen at each school for all major candidates along with those for some minor candidates. Each school chose a certain number of electors based on the number of students attending that school.

Clover Hill's electorial delegations turned out to be unique, in the county, organizing an uncommitted campaign. Most of the uncommitted support came from the senior advanced placement class and a few other radicals.

To end the short campaign, an assembly was held to give the student body information on each candidate. The balloting results showed the sweeping national conservative trend, Reagan ran away with the election, with Anderson and Carter finishing well behind. The uncommitted support had few votes to show for their aggressive campaigning.

The new addition, to the history department, Economics and Sociology, found much interest from the senior class. The course was split into two one semester courses. This class went on a trip to the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, the tour also included other financial businesses in Richmond.

Causes

NO SEXISM IN ART

There are no special art activities offered exclusively for males or females, there is no sexism in art. Boys may engage in needlework, while girls learn the use of carpentry tools in making frames to stretch their canvas.

Besides the traditional drawing, painting and printmaking, new approaches to old crafts are explored. This year's outstanding output has been in the form of needlepoint. Departing from the traditional ways of doing this craft, male students have worked their needlepoint designs on plastic canvas.

The art department participated in National Youth Art Month Regional Show at the First and Merchants Center. March's festivities came to a close with the County Fine Arts Festival. Many thousands of visitors admired Clover Hill's display with 250 pieces of students' art work.

Seven pieces of our students' art work were selected as part of forty works representing Chesterfield County Schools at the F&M Center Art Show. We salute: Lisa Bowles, Kathy Giffel, Shelly Young, Sterling Pollard, Mary Mott, Jim Hall, and Sarah Loper (on the ladder) for their outstanding contribution.

Artistic talent comes in handy to Sterling Pollard, but it is his high degree of motivation that makes him out produce his classmates in art. Sterling proudly displays: a latch hook wall hanging of a farm house, two needlepoint seascapes and two acrylic paintings.

Rosie Greer has nothing on football player Jeff Compton when it comes to needlepoint. Jeff, who is also a talented painter, has chosen a bowl of red and pink flowers for his needlepoint design in crafts class.

Doing their own thing, liberated females Sarah Clapp and Sara Loper use the miter saw in making angles on the frames for stretching their art work Needlepoint on plastic canvas is the latest rage in art. The students "paint" their favorite subject matter with yarn and needle. Infinite patience, careful selection of colors and thousands of stitches produce incredible results. Front row - Jeff Compton, Jerome Fleming. Back - Sterling Pollard, David Adkins and Mark Baroody are artists with a needle.

BOLD describes the work of crafts students Amy Akers crocheted afghan and Shelly Young's contemporary approach to hairpin lace.

Kathy Shanklin practiced long and hard for competition.

MUSICAL FREEDOM

Practicing on the horns are Laura Loper, Steve Williams, Bobby Inge, Rodney Helms, and James Rivenbark.

Dewayne Starling blows his horn.

VOCAL FREEDOM

Clover Hill Cavaliers have many choices in the field of music. There is orchestra, band or choir. A student can learn to play instruments ranging from trumpet to violin to voice. There are all different levels of band, starting with beginning band and working up to advance. This is the same for choir and chorus.

The music department competes in many competitions. Some are Solo and Ensemble and Festival. They work hard. They practice many hours and it usually pays off.

They not only compete in competitions, but they travel to hospitals, reform schools, universities and rest homes. This entertains many sick and lonely people. The music department is not only a course, but something very beautiful in the eyes of many.

Miss Parker and Mrs. Campbell lead the choir.

Choir members Sharon Baldwin, Beth Butler, Lee Collins, Paige Kesler, Lynn Stone, Noelle Labar; Casey Edmondson, Regena Shires, Martha Stacy, Renee Hall rehearse.

Doug Williams, Boxley Crenshaw, Melvin Finn; Ronnie Johnson, Clinton Brown, Barbara Hannegan; Kim Garrett, Scott Richards, Mike Woodhouse play.

MACHINES, MACHINES

For those who choose to pursue a career in industry, the Industrial Department has a lot to offer. Architectual or Engineering drawing, leather working, woodworking all are part of the courses. Machines play a large in the curriculum, as well as the emphasis on safety. The students work on their own projects and often enter them in contests.

... and MORE MACHINES.

For those who want to puruse a career in business, the Business Department offers two prerequisite courses — General Business and Typing I. General Business is a recommended prerequisite and Typing I is a required prerequisite. However, these courses are also electives for all students.

The Business Department has three beginning and advanced block programs. They are Clerical Accounting, Clerk Typist and Stenography. In the Clerical Accounting blocks the primary emphasis is on accounting; in the Clerk-Typist blocks the primary emphasis is on typing, and the Stenography blocks the primary emphasis is on shorthand.

P.E. — FREE TO BE INSIDE — OUTSIDE

For students who want to learn flexibility and to exercise their muscles P.E. is their choice. Students are required to take physical education in the ninth and tenth grades. Health is taught half of the year and Gym the other half.

Activities inside the school in the cold winter months include dance, badmitton, basketball, and gymnastics. Activities outside include tennis, track, softball, and archery. For the more athletic, there is an advanced P.

HOME EC DEALING WITH LIFE CHOICES

A well rounded school not only offers academic endeavors, but it prepares students for life after graduation. The Home Economics department of Clover Hill helps fullfill this large requirement by offering courses — Home Economics I and II, Food Management, Consumer Economics, Child Development/Marriage and Family, Clothing Management/Home Furnishing, and Home and Family Living.

Home Econimics I stresses such skills that deal with the consumer and homemaking. Instruction in areas of clothing construction, housing, room care, food and nutrition are included. Home Economics II is an indepth continuation of the aformentioned 'basic areas' of study. Food Management/Consumer Economics deals with the skills required for food preparation and time management of meal planning. Second semester deals with the definition of management principles in relation to the home and family. Child Development/Marriage and Family is self explanatory. Clothing Management/Home Furnishing involves developing advanced clothing construction skills and the development of the students interest in housing and interior design. Home and Family Living is designed for Seniors. It is devoted to teaching the skills of social and economic aspects of family living. The class activities include the dating years, budget for newly married, caring for young children, establishing financial security, and dealing with various family crises.

Quenching their thirst for another title, the players for ten unanswered points. The Colonials rallied and from the '79 Southside District J.V. Championship team jelled once again to take the Dominion District and Region I AA titles. The Richmond newspapers picked the Cavaliers only as the "darkhorse". The Cavaliers easily won three of their first five games. The Cavs' two losses came on the rival courts of Matoaca and Thomas Dale. Each game was in the grasp of the Cavs. At Matoaca, the Cavs were down by two with the ball, ten seconds on the clock, and a chance to send the game into overtime. A shot was fired up; it bounced off the rim and so did the Cavs' chance for victory, 62-64. Again at Thomas Dale, the Cavaliers tied the game. The Knights had the ball out of bounds with two seconds remaining. A full court pass and a last second shot handed the Cays. their second loss 51-53. The Cavaliers remained in the title chase. After the T. D. loss, the Cavs hit the winning road. The Cavs scalped the Matoaca Warriors 74-59. Knocking off the Knights 60-56, the Cavs gained a tie for first place with Colonial Heights. Travelling to Colonial Heights, the Cavaliers put first place on the line. The Cavs found themselves trailing the Colonials 16-23. The Cavs charged full speed ahead attacking the Colonials then the game was close to the finish. The fourth quarter buzzer sounded to end regulation play. Tears rolled down the faces of the cheerleaders and other girls. The Colonials missed a shot and the Cavs controlled until just six seconds remained in the overtime. The Cavaliers fans sank in their seats as the Colonials had a last second chance to win. It missed, sending the game in double overtime. Steve Stemper went to the free throw line for three oneand-one attempts. Steve said, "I didn't feel tense, I have confidence in my foul shots." Steve canned all six shots in the second overtime, as the Cavs won 50-47

To clinch the district title, the Cavs needed a victory over the Varina Blue Devils. The Cavaliers again found themselves trailing at the half 20-24. Tommy Wiley put in 18 points in the second half. Cav center Doug Woodhouse commented, "When we're down, they (the fans) bring us back." The Cavaliers pulled out a win 56-51 and a Dominion District title.

The Cavs breezed through the first two rounds of the district tournament, defeating Manchester 70-52, and Thomas Dale 56-52. The Cavs faced L.C. Bird in the final. The Cavs fell into a small slump.

losing 40-53. The team went into regionals, with a "regional junx" hanging over their heads. The Cavaliers shed their fears, facing former Southside foe, Bluestone. The Cavs dropped Bluestone 70-60, and the regional drought. The Cavs travelled to Tabb for a meeting with the Tigers. As the half-time buzzer sounded, the Cavaliers were down 29-38. The outnumbered Cay fans rallied behind the team for that "little bit extra." Still behind at the end of the third period, the Cays came out with fire in their eyes. The Cavs outscored Tigers 32-16 in the final period, winnina 76-64.

The Cavaliers travelled to University Hall to face the Martinsville Bulldogs, the Cays were within one game of a dream. The Cavs struggled to stay close to the more powerful Bulldogs. The Cavs were down by 12 points. The Cavaliers switched defense and went to a man-to-man press with a trap. The Cavs were back in the game. With 17 seconds, the Cavs had the ball and the score was 63-66. The Cavaliers turned the ball over and Coach Bob Carden was hit with a technical foul. The Cavaliers newest program faced many changes in its second season. Not only did the Cavs change districts, the team is still growing and has great depth. Many of the grapplers are young and will be around for a few years. Each year the growth of the team through experience will benefit the program. The team defeated a number of opponents to whom they lost last year. The team is still young and has good potential in the near future. The grapplers will be a strong force in the newly formed Dominion District.

Front: Clavis Smith Back: John Squires, Tracy Bentz, Richard Hardy, Bill Leonard, Robert Nussey, Jeff Mayo, Devin Householder, Scott Friedel, Brian Comes, Scott Cullop After two years of dominating Southside District Golf, The Cavaliers found more competition in the newly formed Dominion District. The Cava lost two matches during the regular season one to Meadowbrook and the other to Midlothian.

The Cavs opened their season against Godwin. The Cavs next played 194-166. The Cavs next played a tri-match with Manchester and Benedictine. The Cavs finished at 205, 20 stokes ahead of Manchester and 31 stokes ahead of Benedictine.

The Cavaliers were undershot in their match at Meadowbrook 208-199, in 12 holes. The Cavs easily won the next four matches.

The Cavaliers faced Midlothian and their second loss of the season. The Cavs finished 10 strokes off the Trojans' pace. The Cavs shot 209 for 12 holes.

The Cavs handily defeated Manchester in their next match 160-183. Facing Colonial Heights and Thomas Dale, the Cavs pulled a close double victory. The Cavs went to the clubhouse with a four stroke advantage over TD and 5 strokes ahead of CH. The Cavs sank L.C. Byrd 154-195. In their final match, the Cavaliers played Midlothian. The Cavs and the Trojans finished at 162 after 9 holes, for a tie.

Playing a field of 8 teams, the Cavaliers finished third in the district tournament, to advance to the Region I Tournament. Meadowbrook and Midlothian finished ahead of the Cavs.

The Cavaliers paced the Region I Tournament at Newport News Municipal Golf Course. Leading the Cavs, junior Scott Friedel Captured the Regional medalist title with a 75. (Clavis Smith held the medalist title in the previous two years.) All of the Cavalier golfers finished under 80. The Cavaliers placed first ahead of Meadowbrook and Midlothian, qualifying for State.

Many thought the Cavaliers would have an advantage in the State AA Tourney at Brandermill (the Cav's home course). Cavlier Clavis Smith commented, "I think it's reverse psychology. You know you're suppose to win because you're at home... and that only makes you more nervous."

The State AA Tourney was played in the rain. The course was damp for the first round. The Cavaliers charged the course gaining a 7 stroke lead over district foe, Meadowbrook.

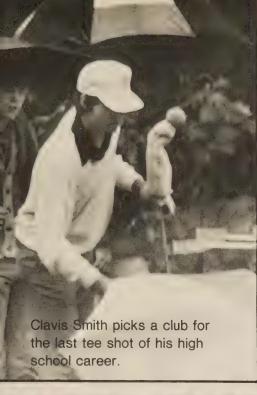

The tournament's second round found the course water-logged. The Cavaliers were leading Meadowbrook 317-324 after the first round. In the second round, the Cavs saw their lead evaporate as Meadowbrook's Mike Gordon skimmed across the standing water.

The Cavaliers stayed consistent in the second round, finishing near their first round score.

The individual race was very close. The State AA Medalist title came down to the eighteenth green. Clavis Smith steeped onto the green and studied his putt. Clavis sank the putt for birdie, and captured the State AA Medalist title.

The Cavaliers found themselves in a familiar spot, behind Meadowbrook. The Cavs finished second out of eight teams.

GYMNASTICS

Coming back from a brief absence in the Clover Hill athletic program, the Cavlaiers turned out a girls gymnastic team. The girls were coached by Barbara England from Swift Creek Middle School.

The team making its comeback was composed of mostly underclassmen. The girls recorded a number of victories in their first season. With a year of experience, and learning the routines, the girls team should prove to be a strong force in the Dominion District.

Upside Down — Completing a back handspring, Kristen Kouri pushes off the floor in her routine.

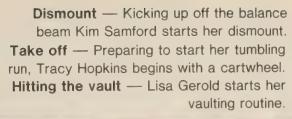

High Arch — Arching to start her walkover, Lisa Gerold shows her versatility in the floor exercises.

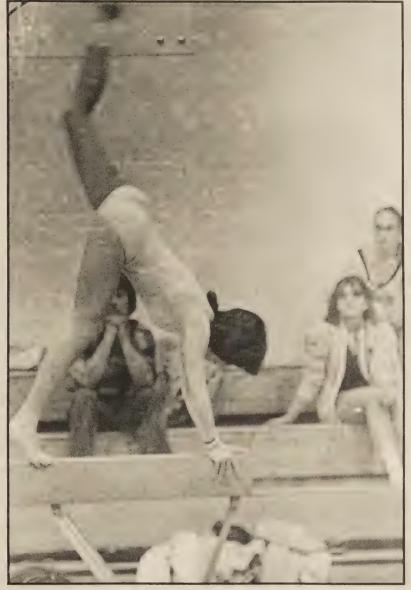

Final thrust — Pushing for her dismount, Lisa Gerold presses off the vaulting horse.

Fully extended — Still rising Kim Samford arches to reach the peak of her vault.

FREE TO DONATE BLOOD

Clover Hill had its vampires out this year again. FHS held another blood drive - one in November and one in May. Students, faculty, parents, and even Mrs. Judy Bowman's husband Donald came to donate to both of the blood drives. Both times over seventy pints of blood was donated. FHC supplied juices and goodies to make up for the loss of blood. This blood is donated to the Richmond Blood Bank.

Last year they had a blood drive. All this shows that the FHC is proud to be helping.

VICA

Mrs. Spencer with her boys.

The VICA Club of 1981 had a good year in raising almost $5,000 by selling candy between classes. With this money VICA bought new jackets and other excessories for the Club's future use. $394.05 was donated by VICA to the library for supplies. VICA also gave money to the office for extra help along with sending flowers to the Cheerleaders in appreciation of their hard work. The members of the 1981 VICA Club participated in many different class projects, one of which was taking the elderly fruit baskets and cards to let them know the young people were thinking of them.

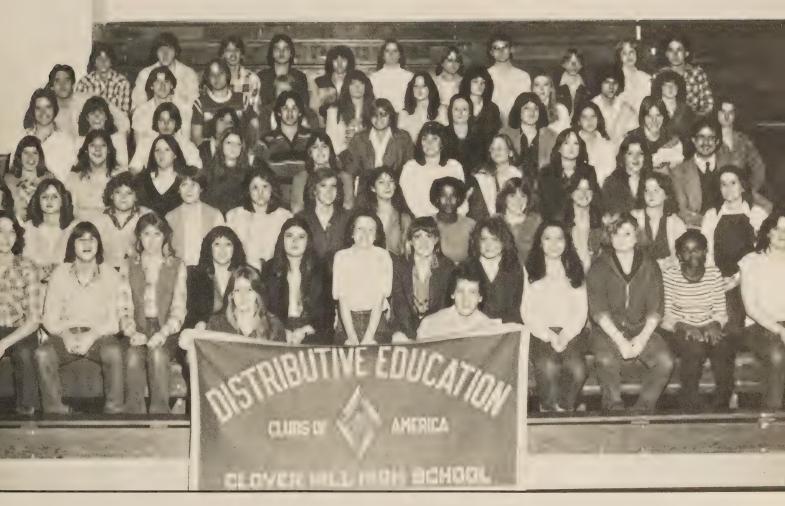

The following were elected for the 1980-81 VICA officers: Johnny Dix, President; William Davis, Vice President; Joy Clary, Secretary; David Leslie, Reporter; Kelly Kennerly, Historian; Worth Redd, Parliamentarian; Danny Mann, Chaplain.

Some of the VICA students were elected as delegates to go to the District, State, and are planning to go on to the Regional VICA convention. The convention holds different kinds of competion and are a challenge to compete in.

There's a lot to do and you will have fun doing it VICA.

DECA has had a busy and productive year. Students have had the opportunity to participate in such events as the installation of officers ceremony, homecoming activities, fashion shows, District Fall Rally, sponsoring of a Christmas family, Christmas Banquet, Vocational Education Week, District and State Leadership Conference, and Employer-Employee Banquet.

The New York trip was a highlight for the Fashion students. This trip gave the students an opportunity to visit one of the fashion centers of the world!

Thanks to all of those who have helped to make the program at CHHS one of the best.

The NHS is an honorary organization whose main purpose is to help benefit the school and community in any way possible. Qualifications for membership into the Society are based upon scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Last September, the NHS sponsored Parent's Night — a time during which parents are invited to the school to meet their children's teachers. The Society helped in many areas, even with refreshments.

One of the highlights of the school year was the Tapping Ceremony. Juniors with a 3.6 grade average and Seniors with a 3.4 grade average who otherwise met the membership qualifications were recognized during the meaningful ceremony. A reception followed.

The main service provided by the NHS was tutoring. Students who felt they needed help in their studies arranged through guidance to be tutored. Each member was encouraged to tutor someone for at least one hour a week.

The NHS, through its many services. has helped CHHS in many ways. The principles it stands for have made the NHS an organization the school and community can be proud of.

FHA

The Clover Hill Chapter, Future Homemakers of America has been busy this year. Some of the activities included: operating the FHA booth at the State Fair, making a float for Homecoming, collecting toys for the Red Cross, assisting with refreshments at the Open House, NHS Tapping, reception for the Ring Ceremony, attending the State leadership conference at the Hyatt House, attending leadership camp at Smithfield, going to Fort Lee to the Culinary Arts Festival and attending the Bellwood Federation Fall Rally and Spring Ral-

Our emphasis for the year was "Fuel for your Tank". Our meetings and programs held during class periods. Some of these programs were: demonstrations and taste testing nutritios snacks, homemade ice cream, crepes, cereal snacks, custards, fondue and bread sticks (peanut butter and cheese). The Culinary Arts team from Fort Lee spent a day demonstrating making garnishes and centerpieces - using fruits, vegetables and eggs.

Several fund raising activities were carried out to cover the costs of these activities and dues for members.

We had 100% membership this year!

FORENSIC FREEDOM

With the beginning of school, Clover Hill joined ten other high schools in competition in the new Dominion District. Athletics naturally took the forefront in the public's eye, but another group was vying for championships as well. One such organization was the Forensic team.

The Forensic team entered the new district with a long history of success. It had won six straight District and one Regional title while in the James River District, and had taken the Southside Forensic crown the previous year. Another aspect of past squads redurred in the '80-'81 large turnover among the team members. Four members filling the nine available spots were first year team members. The first competition was the Longwood Invitational.

Against the high quality level of competition, three Cavaliers placed. Mark Patrick took third in Boys Oratory, and Lisa Holden and Wendy Link won the Girls Serious Prose and Girls After-Dinner Speaking respectively.

Next on the agenda was a meet at Matoaca High School. Cavalier speakers edged Colonial Heights 46 to 44. Mark Patrick and Donald Smith won first place in Boys Oratory and Prose respectively, with Casey Sponski and Rich Murray taking third in Girls and Boys Extemporaneous respectively.

The Regional meet was held in Glouchester, with Mark Patrick winning third place in Boy's Oratory.

THE BATTLE of the BRAINS

For the past two years in the Richmond area, Thursday nights have been "Brain" nights. Battle of the Brains, sponsored by Safeway Stores and WCVE TV, is an academic competition pitting high schools against each other. The Clover Hill squad won its first two matches and advanced into the third round.

The team was selected in tryouts in early December. Wendy Link, Rich Murray, Mark Patrick and Donald Smith were chosen with Tony Shibley, Joe Tiller, and David Trebour as alternates. Under the supervision of coach Wes Childress, the team began practice for its first match, on February 5 against Charlottesville, High School.

In the previous two years Clover Hill never won a television match. This year that was to change. At the final bell the score stood Clover Hill 205, Charlottesville 55.

The next opponent was Mills E. Godwin from Henrico County. The team kept their poise and defeated them in a dramatic match 135 to 120.

The final competition came against Collegiate. Falling behind early, the never was able to comeback. Although the season ended on a disappointing note, it still was a season to be proud of.

Rich Murray, Mark Patrick, Donald Smith, and Wendy Link await the buzzer to start the first round against Charlottesville.

The battle of the Brains team clown around awaiting the start of the Godwin match.

FRIENDLY FRENCHMEN

The French Club is a group which learns about and promotes interest in the French language and culture. Our activities in the 1980-81 school year were many and varied. The Homecoming float was transformed into a French Cabaret complete with music and Can-Can girls. It won Third place award (oh la-la). Christmas is traditionally a time of singing French Christmas carols and enjoying the French cake, Bûche de Noël: A one act play performed by members of the club was our contribution to the Fine Arts Festival. The spring culminated in a lecture on French cuisine to the club by John Maxwell.

TOCHOOSE in ALBUM

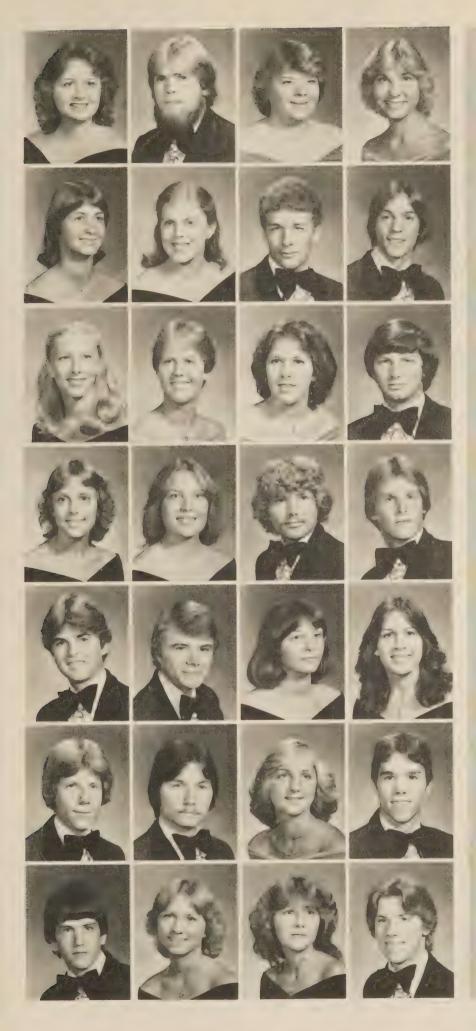

The Class of 1981 was a class of firsts the first class to take the minimum compentency tests. The first class to receive a formal ring ceremony rather than a ring dance, and the first to have two graduates attending military academies. A Bulletin Board was placed in the Math Department this year to keep Seniors informed of all important events. The first Ring Ceremony, in which the Class of 1981 received their rings, was a success, as was the ceremony given to the Class of 1982 by the Seniors. Parents were invited to a reception. The annual Powder Puff game, which had been a victory for the class of '81 as a Junior class, was a 16-0 defeat for this years' seniors. But '81 retaliated in a hard fought Turkey Bowl, to beat the juniors in two games out of three. The seniors participated in the SCA sponsored Spirit Chain, placing second. They, along with the rest of the school, went with the '80-81 Basketball team to the State Semifinals and captured the Sportsmanship trophy, though the team did not capture the championship. T-shirts were ordered with the names of all the class members, and donned frequently at Pep rallies and games. "BeachDay" appeared as a Senior creation — Seniors wore sunglasses and bright printed shirts to show spirit for the school. In the NHS Olympics held April 14, the Seniors walked away with the first place trophy and the spirit award. The class picture was taken after an hour and a half of arranging and rearranging on April 29. Senior Take Over Day was held on May 7, and the participating students learned how hard it really was to take on the responsibilities of a teacher or administrator. At the Senior Banquet, also on May 7, the class history, Senior Superlatives, and Last Will and Testament were read. Prom Night May 16 was the most beautiful ever. The Senior Class Picnic, May 22 and Graduation June 5 closed a wonderful year.

The award winning drum majo who leads the Clover Hill High School Marching Band is Brandermill's Doug Long. His parents are Thomas and Lucretia Davies of Old Fox Trail. Doug is a senior this year, and after graduation he plans studies in the field of business.

Doug played trumpet with the Clover Hill band for two years prior to being elected drum major for the 1980-1981 school year. To prepare for tryouts and to improve marching ability, he twice attended the Mid Atlantic Band Front Camp for color guards, rifle bearers, and drum majors.

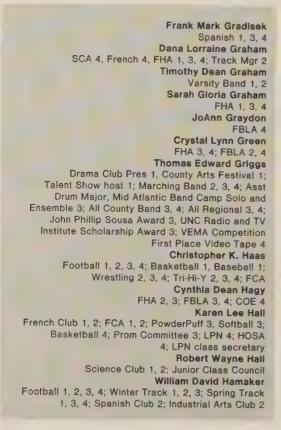

In September Doug took two first place honors in drum major competitions. In the class A division of bands, which is based on a fifty member size wdith one drum major, Doug was the winner at Buena Vista on September 20 and the Virginia State Fair on September 23.

On October 11 at the University of Richmond Band Day, Doug tied for second place overall with the Hermitage High School drum majors. This award was based on competition with bands of both the fifth member size, and the division for larger bands which may have more than one drum major. On October 18 Doug placed fourth overall at the Tidewater Festival of Bands.

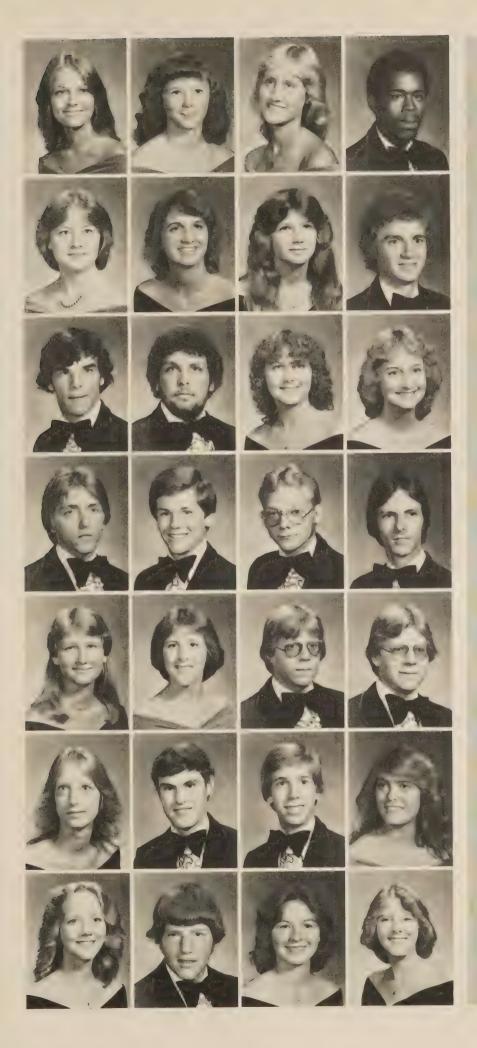

At the Cary Band Day in Cary, North Carolina, drum majors and bands from the states of Virginia, North Carolina, and Maryland entered the competition. The drum major judging is based on a scale of 1-100. Points are awarded for originality, musicality, and conducting. The drum major salute with the color guard is also a factor in the judging the performance. Doug placed first.

Congratulations, Doug, on a job well done!!

FREE TO BE ORDINARY PEOPLE

We have had Laurel and Hardy, Ginger and Fred, but at Clover Hill we have Kathy and John: two ordinary people. Through the years people invented and created many unusual things. But Kathy and John are our examples of nice ole ordinary people.

John is a very down to earth kind of a guy. Athletic, studious, spirited are all words that describe John. He has spent his years at CHHS being an example of a all around student.

Kathy is a good ole girl who cheers and is actively involved in the school's activities. Even an encounter with a tree on Old Hundred did not dampen her enthusiasm.

If you have the chance to meet this pair, you will be impressed.

FREE TO HELP

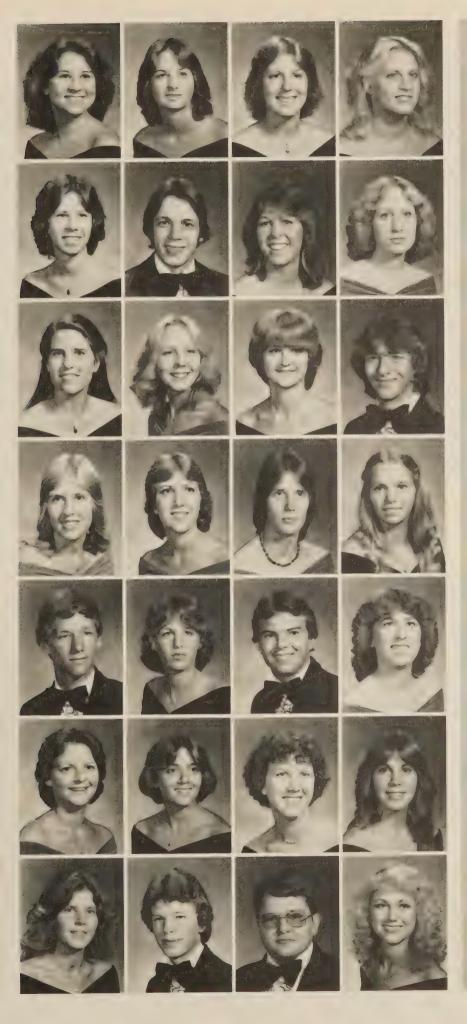

Sirens and emergency are normal parts of two Cavaliers lives. These two young people Brenda Stargadt and Chuck Morris give hundreds of hours to the Manchester Rescue Squad and the Clover Hill Fire Dept. #2. They do this and maintain a full schedule of classes.

Brenda Stargardt works for the Manchester Rescue Squad. She feels comfortable with her cohorts. The dangers are many and she is only held back from assisting in very few life threatening situations. One such case is family arguments that involve hazardous projectiles. Brenda wishes to continue her career and to become a paramedic in Virginia Beach.

Another brave soul is Chuck Morris. He works with the Clover Hill Fire Department #2. He feels well adjusted in the department that he serves. He stated, "We run many dummy fires". He is restricted from working only on the most dangerous of blazes where firemen are not allowed to enter the burning building. After high school he will have to participate in EMT that lasts for three weeks, eight weeks in fire fighting school, then he will become a full fledged Chesterfield County fire fighter. Best wishes for lifesaving success for this pair.

PETE MATTHEWS

Pete Matthews, a Senior, is another one of Clover Hill's students planning to attend a military academy, located in Annapolis, Maryland.

The idea of attending such an institution has always been dormant in Pete's mind. So, the latter part of his Junior year he applied for a nomination. The process of actually receiving a nomination is tedious, and involves much paper work. For instance, Pete wrote many letters, sent various test scores and school records to Senators John Warner, Harry Byrd, and Representative Dan Daniel. He was notified of his nomination, which came for Dan Daniel in September 1980. After this was accomplished, Pete then had to complete the entire process again, but this time he sent test scores and numerous forms to the Academy so he would be eligible for an appointment.

There were many reasons why he chose the Naval Academy. First it offered the type of education that Pete wanted, at a full scholarship

WENDY LINK

Wendy Link has been accepted at the United States Air Force Academy, located in Colorado Springs. The idea of participating in the Air Force has always been in the back of Wendy's Mind. When she learned of the Academy in her Junior year, she quickly decided to compete for an appointment. The process of applying led to Representative Dan Daniel's recommendation. She received her nomination in October 1980. The two major reasons why Wendy chose the Air Force Academy were that it offers an excellent education comparable to Harvard and MIT (with a full scholarship). Also, the many job opportunities after graduation are outstanding. Wendy will receive $365 starting salary per month and she will graduate as a Second Lieutent. As of now, she is still undecided as to her career, but it will be with the Air Force. Clover Hill is proud of its military woman . . .

FREE TO GO TO AN ACADEMY

and a guaranteed job upon graduation. The excellent athletic facilities the attractive campus, and the close proximityto 'home' were added benefits. While attending the Naval Academy, Pete will receive $345 per month in salary and after completing the required four years, he will obtain a Bachelors degree in Science.

Then Pete will become an Ensign in the Navy or a Lieutenent in the Marine Corps. Upon graduation, Pete will serve for five years, but after that, he will have the choice of either continuing his military career, or becoming a civilian.

AMY SHEARER

My grandmother (we call her Nana) and I used to bake homemake sweet rolls, cookies, cakes, everything together. That is how I got interested in baking. Not I am learning to bake homemade breads and buns . . . Yummy . . . My friends like for me to bake things for them. This gives me the idea of opening my own bakery.

I love to see little children's faces and sometimes even adults when they walk into a bakery with all those sweets. It seems to make them very happy. It makes me happy when my friends like what I bake. To Amy we wish a baking good time . . .

BIG MOOSE

I got my name "Big Moose" from Terry Blalock. I was on the field practicing my marching. Terry said, "He looks like a moose gnawing on a tree". Ever since I've been called Big Moose. People laught at me when I tell them my name is Big Moose

There is an advantage to having a name like Big Moose . . . my real name is Kim. Lots of people can answer to Kim; but there is only one Big Moose.

Free to be a JUNIOR

The Class of 82 was involved in a number of activities this year. It all started with the annual Ring Ceremony organized by the Seniors. The next big activity was the Powder Puff football game. The Juniors were victorious. Later in the year the Turkey Bowl ended in an upset, since the Seniors defeated the Juniors.

The Junior Class was also involved in fund raising activities all year long, weekly donut sales and car washes filled much time. However it was all worth it, as the Juniors with the aid of Mr. Houghton staged the best Prom ever.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT: JEROME FLEMING

Jerome Fleming a Junior at Clover Hill spends many hours a week finding out how businesses operate through a program founded in 1619 by Clarence C. Moose. This organization is nicknamed JA for Junior Achievement. Its whole purpose is to help high school students understand the running of a business. The company chooses officers by election and Jerome serves as treasurer of the entire southside area. He also Vice President of his local JA. Keep up the good business sense Jerome

Talented Freedom

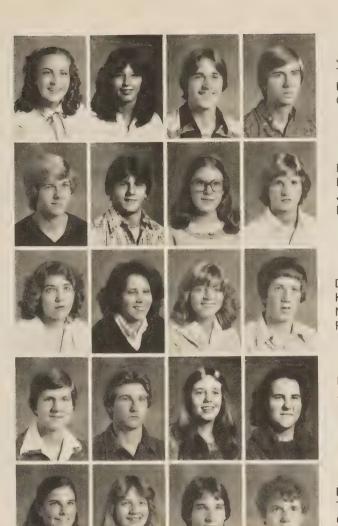

Robin Brooks is Clover Hill's answer to Olga and Nadia. Robin has been gymnastically active since she was seven years old.

She began with tumbling during her slementary years at the Russ Porter Field Gym in Kansas City. She quickly went to a higher class at the Fred McCracken School Gym, as soon as they saw her form, grace, and style. She not only had natural talent, but she enjoyed every minute of competion and of practice. Next she competed in the State Championship and took Second Place and she was only thirdteen years old. The following year, 1979, in the state Championship she placed in all the individual events and she captured Third Place in the Class 2 Gymnastics Event.

Upon moving to Midlothian, she was placed on the Richmond Olympic Class 1 Team. This is a terrific display of talent and fortitude.

During Christmas Robin was in Belguim competing in the Olympic events in gymnastics, while most of the school was busy shopping.

The best of luck from all of Clover Hill to a supertalented young lady.

FREE TO BE FLORAL

Tammy Graham a sophomore enjoys working with flowers. She has aspirations of entering the field of floristry when she completes her high school years. Tammy recently attended a statewide convention that was all related to floristry. In her spare time you can find her surrounded by flowers. She is quite skilled in both live and dried flower arranging. With talent like this it is entirely possible that Tammy will have a career that is fragrant as well as fun.

Tammy bouquets of luck to you ...

FREE TO BE SEA WORTHY

My most Unusual characteristic is my interest for aircraft ships, and land vehicles, especially if they are military. So for my interest has gotten me a model collection containing about 25 models, a collection of war stories, mostly paper backs.

It has also gotten me into the Sea Cadet Corp. In the Sea Cadets we have a 65 foot utility boat which we work on. I have already been in the colorguard and taken a 2 week trip to Florida for a boat camp.

FREE TO RACE

The Engines roar and the flag goes down --Larry Edwards is off. Larry has been racing go carts since early in 1980. With the help of his father and a local auto parts store, they were right up there running in front. Last year he took 15 first place trophies at Amelia Kart Track. At the end of the season he went from a box stock status to a sportsman class. This allowed him to use a larger carburator . . . This year he got a new Kart. With a great deal of work, he took First Place in his class in the Chesterfield Mall Kart Show.

So far this year, he is undefeated at the weekly races at Amelia Kart Track, and he took third place in the Virginia Championship Race.

Larry, keep that rubber burning . . .

FRESHMAN FREEDOM

With the assistance of Mrs. Cole the Freshman Class has been hard at work all year. With thoughts of the Prom they will have to handle in a few years, they are already busy raising funds. One way they did this was to sell Cavaliers Mugs.

In addition to fund raising they attempted in all the Pep rallies to capture the Spirit Stick. Their spirit also shone through as the tired to make the most loops in the Spirit Chain. They did walk away with the First Place Award in the door decorating contest that occured during Homecoming 1980. This will be a class to keep a watch on.

Jon Roberts a recent Freshman at Clover Hill used to live in Italy. Before returning Jon says he enjoyed it very much. Life in a foreign country is quite different from the convenient life in the United States. The pace of life in Italy is much slower than here in Chesterfield. Jon has lots of interesting stories to tell about his family and friends in Italy. If you get a chance ask him to tell you one.

The school year supplied many things for the faculty to choose to participate in with the students. Outside of class the year was filled with tournaments, dances, forensic meets, games, Battle of the Brains competition, bus trips to Charlottesville and Florida, blood drives, . . . As usual, students and faculty carried out these functions with style and grace. Not only is our faculty academic it has a heart.

IN MEMORIAM HERBERT A. "SARGE" PAPPIN

SARGE with Mr. Rickman and Mrs. Spencer during a Talent Show

Herbert "Sarge" Pappin faithfully served Chesterfield County Schools and Clover Hill High School for a number of years. As Head Custodian, Mr. Pappin helped to open Clover Hill in the fall of 1972. He was here during the opening months when there were few students and no student desks. He was here when the school was at its peak enrollment and overflowed into trailers. Most important of all, he was here every day, efficiently managing a complex building, keeping our grounds looking beautiful, and doing it all with a dash of humor and a full measure of humanity. Mr. Pappin's loyalty to Clover Hill was matched by his love for young people and their respect for him. Clover Hill High School is a better place for his having given us a part of his life. "Sarge" will be remembered always in the chronicles of this school.

And this is just the appetizer.

For most people, a meal at The Brandermill Restaurant includes a walk along the shores of our magnificent lake or a relaxing moment on our decks watching the sailboats glide by or the sun set into the lake.

But, what makes The Brandermill Restaurant outstanding is that the food is as interesting as the waterfront setting. For lunch there is a selection of hot entrees, unusual sandwiches and a variety of light salads. For dinner, tender steaks, seafoods and imaginative specialties created by our meticulous chef. And last, but certainly not least, a selection of desserts that range from the delicate to the sublime.

The Brandermill Restaurant, open for lunch and dinner every day except Mondays. Located in Brandermill, 8 miles west of Chippenham on Route 360. Call 744-1330 for dinner reservations or luncheon groups.

FREEDOM TO CHOOSE OUR OWN PATH

The end of the 1980-81 year has come to a close. We bid farewell to the Seniors. We send with them our hopes that they will always have the freedom to choose their own paths.

As we look back we see a vear filled with events. The 1980 Homecoming, the glorious football games, the Regional and STATE basketball games. track meets, baseball games. wrestling matches, Cheerleaders who are going to NATIONAL Competition in August, classes filled with friends, hours filled with study for EXAMS that were impossible to pass, dances, THE PROM, GRADUATION, all are only parts of a wonderful year at Clover Hill.

The world is ours. We will always have the freedom to choose our way. Each minute is precious. Let's make the most of it.
